DEFENSE HEADS AWAIT DRAFT ACTION SIGNAL

Ready To Start Building Force of Two Million Men Upon Truman Signing of Act.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 21—The nation's military leaders were ready today to swing speedily into action building a 2-million man defense force — when President Truman pushes the draft button.

No until 90 days after Mr Truman signs the selective service revival bill can men—19 through 25—be inducted into the armed forces.

But the defense chiefs were rushing plans to set up the training machinery for the thousands of peacetime draftees Congress gave them over $14,000,000,000 to do the job of strengthening the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, said passage of the draft bill is a long step "toward preventing foreign conflict."

He told a news conference in Los Angeles yesterday it will "back our leadership in the world and will strengthen our foreign policy."

As to the chances of an emergency arising, Gen Bradley said "We're faced with the possibility anything might happen. No one knows—unless it would be 14 men in the Kremlin."

Gen. Bradley's forces received the major share of the defense billions congress handed out and will get the largest number of men through the peacetime draft

How Funds Are Allotted

On the dollar score, the Army got $6,767,688,163, the Navy $4,749,059,250. A $3,224,000,000 appropriation to built the AIT force up to 70 groups, also included funds for the Army and Navy

Military authorities have estimated it will take about $1,700,000,000 to draft and train the future inductees.

Gen. Bradley said some key personnel may be brought home from overseas to help in the training program Reserve and National Guard officers already have been put through special courses to administer the peacetime draft.

The fanfare which featured the beginning of the previous drafts will be missing this time

There will be no drawing of numbers from a goldfish bowl in Washington. Instead of a lottery, the order of induction will be decided by age.

Tentative plans call for beginning the draft with 21-year-olds. Under this plan men who turned 21 on Jan. 1 would be first in line for induction, Jan. 2 next and so on through Dec. 31.

Offices Being Absorbed

Whether all eligibles in the first age group will be called before drafting is started from another group still is to be decided.

The office of selective service records, caretaker of the wartime draft records and planning agency for the peacetime draft, will be absorbed by the new selective service organization. Jam. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who headed the wartime draft, presumably will head the new agency.

Approximately 4,000 local draft boards will be set up There were 6,442 boards during the wartime draft. The local boards, like before, will be appointed by the governors.

The Army probably will call between 200,000 and 225,000 inductees during the first 12 months of the new draft

Under the draft bill the Army would be boosted to 837,000 from its present 548,000 strength; the Navy and Marines to 666,882 from 469,000 the Air Force to 502,000 from 382,000. The total strength of the military establishment is set at 2,005,882

Major Provisions Listed

Here are the major draft provisions

1. Men from 19 through 25 can be drafted for 21 months service in the Army, Navy, Marines or Air force

2. Up to 161,000 18-year-olds may volunteer for one year of service.

3. Doctors and dentists under 26 are subject to induction the same as other registrants in addition, doctors and dentists who completed education or received their training under wartime programs are subject to call, outside the draft bill

4 World War II veterans with one year of active service, or 90 days service between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945 are exempt. Members of the National Guard and active reserve will be deferred

5. The President has authority to set deferments for dependency.

Pre-Convention Scene Pictured by Clare Luce In First Star Article

This is the first of a series of reports on the Republican national convention by Clare Boothe Luce, former congresswoman and noted author and journalist, which will appear daily in The Star

* * *

By CLARE BOOTHE LUCE

PHILADELPHIA, June 21 — There's a big, 15-foot high balloon elephant over the marquee of the Hotel Bellevue-Stratford the headquarters of the Grand Old Party of the Republicans

A rolly-poly, pink and grey, blue-eyed pachyderm, a Walt Disney character. The first day, he was full of bounce, straining at the cords that held him to the canopy As they poured into their favorite candidate's headquarters, the delegates were sure that he would break away and sail off, down Broad street and up, up to the top of city hall, over Bill Penn's head there, and away from the city of brotherly love

Clare B. Luce

But Saturday, around 4 p m., just about the time that big, smiling, weary Harold Stassen arrived at the crowded door of the hotel, Jumbo-Repumbo began to collapse Any delegate who wanted to take that for a symbol was going to be disappointed He has collapsed and been blown up again a half dozen times since, and it happened that all the bounce oozed out of him again at about 1 p m yesterday When Tom Dewey took off for a most important luncheon in Rosemont, on Philadelphia's Main Line But could that really have been a sign? Could this luncheon party have gravely jeopardized Mr Dewey's chances in the nomination?

Clement Is Host

Mr Dewey's host was big, efficient, M. W Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad. Judging by his guests, which included most of the Pennsylvania big shot politicians and their wives, Mr Clement seemed to be playing no presidential favorites All the presidential candidates had been invited, and quite a few of them, including the leading dark horses, were there Senator Robert Taft and Senator John Bricker of Ohio, Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts, and Rep Charles Halleck of Indiana laughed and swapped dope stories with the guests, just as though the lot of them had not spent a sleepless 24 hours in the hectic last session of congress

This Rosemont affair could certainly not be called a smoke-filled session This was a charming buffet given by a gracious and apparently "neutral" host, in a gay, airy mansion with rooms opening onto a lovely garden. Arising from the little buffet tables which sparkled with crystal, there was the sweet smell of summer flowers and the heady aroma of expensive perfume. There were no vulgar whiffs of thick, black cigar smoke, no stale liquor fumes, such as the popular myth associates with the biggest political deals in the world: the deals that make presidents.

And yet, on this day at this gay, chattering luncheon, a scene took place that may well affect the fate of Mr Dewey, and will surely affect every other candidate at the convention For just as the luncheon came to a close, Mr. Dewey—and every other guest—saw two men walk slowly out onto the porch The two men were Pennsylvania's soldierly Senator Ed Martin and big, red-headed governor Jim Duff. Both of them are fighting men.

History in Making

All the guests felt that history was being made as they got together for the first time in months, for a friendly talk. They left the porch, and went into the garden. There they stood, by a clump of blue delphinium, to talk to each other in low, serious voices as the other guests began to leave, their curiosity unsatisfied

The key to the question of the nomination of the next Republican candidate may well lie in the vote of Pennsylvania's 73 delegates.

This delegation had been badly split by the well-ad ertised personal grievances that existed between stubborn, dynamic Ed Martin and the outspoken governor What Mr Clement's guests and Tom Dewey may have been witnessing was the composition of their differences, a think to bring harmony to the ranks of the keystone state.

Was the breach healed? Had the two men really composed their differences? They laughed and linked arms as they walked through the garden Well, anyone could see that they had agreed on a strategy—if not on a candidate

Chance for Pennsylvania

What was the strategy? Would it be to stop Governor Dewey's blitz of the convention. Would they go to Taft first, then to Vandenberg in a deadlock?

If the wounds are healed and the breach is mended between Ed Martin and Jim Duff, if no man can stir up bad blood between these two popular characters, Pennsylvania may be able to name the next president

CONGRESS IN WEARY WINDUP

GOP Calls Record of Session Good; "One of Worst," Say Democrats.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 21 — Word-weary legislators today set about defending, or lambasting, the pre-convention record they finished writing in yesterday's weary dawn windup of the 80th congress.

Looking ahead to the November elections, Republicans asserted it was one of the best congresses ever Democrats took up President Truman's cry that it was one of the worst in history.

GOP leaders in the final gruelling two days and nights had given Mr. Truman a few of the things he asked for $6,030,710,228 for foreign aid, a peacetime draft of men 19 through 25 and—literally in the final hour—a new system of farm price supports.

One major bill for which there had still been last-minute hope didn't make it No general housing legislation was passed, although a very minor part of such a bill squeezed through.

Whether there would be additions to the legislative record in this election year was left up in the air.

The Republican leaners retained the right to summon their colleagues back to Washington

Mr Truman can do so, under the Constitution. But whether he would want to recall the congress which rebuffed his recommendations so repeatedly was another question

Criticizes Domestic Record

Sen. McGrath, (D-RI), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, lashed out at the entire domestic record of the GOP-controlled congress and said that even on foreign policy it went along with the administration "by the narrowest of margins"

He challenged the Republicans to "construct a tent big enough to reach from Sen. Vandenberg to Congressman Taber"

That was a reference to the

WISH FOREIGN POLICY OF GOP TONED DOWN

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 21 — A battle on foreign policy threatened today in the GOP platform committee. Several members were reported balking at what has been called the "most international" plank ever proposed for the Republican party.

They are mostly members of congress, held in Washington for the late adjournment, who only got a round today to close study of the preliminary draft of planks prepared by members of the resolutions committee in pre-convention sessions.

Rep. Hartess (R-Ind.), a resolutions member just arriving, told reporters he expects an effort to be made in the 104-member committee later in the day, to pull "some of the internationalist teeth" of the foreign plank.

Truck Kills Child At Upper Sandusky

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 21 —A 16-month-old child, Dannie Stephan Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams of Upper Sandusky, was fatally injured Saturday at 10:45 a m when he was struck by an Imperial Brewing Co truck which was making its regular ice deliveries in Upper Sandusky The truck was driven by Lorrin Kuenzli of Upper Sandusky.

The accident occurred in front of the Williams home The child had apparently crawled beneath the truck while the driver was making deliveries, and Kuenzli did not see him when he returned to his truck. Death was almost instant and was attributed to a fractured skull.

The child was born Feb 20, 1947, in the Bucyrus City hospital to Robert and Mary Weaver Williams. Surviving with the parents are five brothers and sisters, Jean, James, Tommy, Bobby and Jerry.

Ohio Bloc For Stassen Holds

Group Faithful to Him, But Taft Delegates Appear Undisturbed.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 21 — Harold E Stassen's bloc in the Ohio delegation remained faithful to him today as the Republican national convention opened; but the Taft camp did not appear disturbed.

Lieutenants of Senator Robert A. Taft, who holds 44 of the delegation's 53 votes, said they were not surprised over the nine Stassen delegates' decision to stick with the Minnesotan.

The nine in a caucus last night decided not only to stand by him so long as he has a chance to win the presidential nomination, but to support any other candidate he might recommend.

"We agree unanimously on this," said Mrs. Lois Cosatt of Toledo, who was elected chairman of the Ohio Stassen group. "We didn't have to do this, because Mr. Stassen had released us from obligation to him."

Nevertheless, some Taft strategists were hopeful that Stassen would throw his support to the Ohio Senator if it appeared the former Minnesota governor could not win the presidential nomination.

Rumors of Taft-Stassen dicker-

PAY HIKE GRANTED EMPLOYES OF FORD

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 21—The Ford Motor Co. today offered a 11 to 14 cents an hour wage increase to its 110,000 CIO United Auto Workers.

The proposal called for a 14 cent an hour boost to employes making $1.50 or more an hour. Those making less than $1.50 would receive 11 cents an hour.

Ford said this system would "erase many of the inequities in our present wage structure."

The union had asked Ford for a 20 cent an hour increase. The average wage now is slightly above $1.50 an hour.

General Motors corp. recently gave its 230,000 employes an 11 cent wage hike geared to the cost of living. Chrysler corp. handed out a 13 cent increase to its 80,000 workers.

The 11-14 cent offer was the first made by Ford since the union began its drive for a third round of postwar wage increases.

"We Can't Lose" Spirit Pervades Convention Hall

BY LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, June 21—Victory-scenting Republicans opened their 34th national convention today with Dewey, Taft, and Stassen touted to lead the field on the first ballot for a presidential nominee.

In a we-can't-lose mood, the 1,094 delegates formally began the business of setting up the campaign machinery they believe will give them their first presidential victory since 1928.

Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the arrangements committee, gaveled the convention to order at 11:27 a. m. EDT. He shouted that "we are here to name the next president and vice president of the United States." Delegates and spectators cheered, camera lights flashed, and the convention was on.

Chairman Sounds Battle Cry

National Chairman Carroll Reece summoned the party to battle with an address in which he declared that the biggest issue in November will be Republicanism vs. Communism.

The Republican party of the United States and international communism, Chairman Reece told the delegates, are the "two powerful forces" in combat for control of this republic.

"The once great Democratic party," Mr. Reece said, "has become an intellectual hybrid of radicalism and big city "machinism." It can not exist with both. It can not exist without both"

The Republicans, he asserted, are entitled to victory in November "because we have been constant in principle, loyal in our beliefs, and faithful to our promises."

Welcomed by Duff

Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, whose 73-vote state delegation may play a key role in picking the GOP nominee, welcomed the delegates.

He told them that they "must define a new and responsible purpose and pledge the world a moral and spiritual leadership that alone can save us all from the deep abyss to which a pure materialism is endeavoring to engulf us."

The Republican nominee for president will be chosen before the week ends as balloting is scheduled to begin no later than Thursday night. He could be any one of a dozen statesmen. Here's a who's who of the contenders as the gavel falls

▶Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York: conceded to have the most first ballot votes but must win the first half dozen roll calls if at all.

▶Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio: expected to place second on the first ballot and to get his shot at the nomination only if Gov. Dewey falters.

▶Former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota: safe in third place on the first roll call but needing a Dewey-Taft deadlock for a chance to run.

▶Sen Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan: far behind the leaders on ballot No. 1 but a better bet than Stassen to profit from a deadlock.

▶Governor Earl Warren of California: an avowed candidate with California's fat 52 votes securely held but not much else in early balloting.

▶Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts: a dark horse who is "available" and to whom the so-called isolationists probably would rally against Vandenberg's nomination.

▶Gen. Douglas MacArthur: strictly a dark horse in a far stall of the deadlock stable.

Taft-Stassen "deal" reports continued to the convention's opening moment with a showdown possible on a minor delegation contest. If Taft and Stassen supporters are maneuvering to join against Dewey the credentials committee will reflect it today when the Georgia contest comes up. The national committee seated a 16-vote pro-Dewey Georgia delegation last week.

Sen. Taft is appealing to the credentials committee and confidently expects to get his own Georgia delegation voted into the convention. He will need Stassen support to do that.

First Ballot Estimates

A Stassen spokesman estimated minimum first ballot figures this way: Dewey 360 votes, Taft 234, Stassen 178.

An independent check of delegations for pledges and estimates—the estimates strictly elastic—came out this way: Dewey 325, Taft 168, Stassen 146.

Dewey headquarters claims only that the governor will be top man—no figure mentioned.

Taft headquarters say the senator can raise up to 312 first ballot votes if necessary.

They can't all be right because of the big blocs of favorite son delegations are securely tied on the first ballot to their home state favorites. That is lost through love and loyalty than a common desire to stand by on early ballots to see who really packs the roll call wallop. Everybody likes to ride a winner but politicians find it especially prudent.

There are 1,094 nominating votes in this convention. So the Convention Headliners

The 34th Republican national convention was called to order by Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee. He is to preside until the temporary chairman and keynote speaker, Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, takes the gavel.

REECE

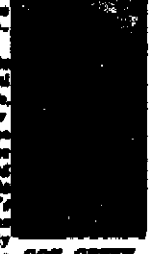
Reece, a former congressman from a strong Republican district in eastern Tennessee, has headed the national committee since 1946.

Reece, 50, was a member of the house for 20 years and has long been considered the head of his party in Tennessee. He has been a caustic critic of Truman administration.

Farm-born, he is a banker-lawyer who taught economics in his youth.

* * *

Keynoter Dwight Green is a prolific speech-maker. He has spoken in 32 states and has made approximately 1,100 speeches since he became governor in 1941.



GOV. GREEN

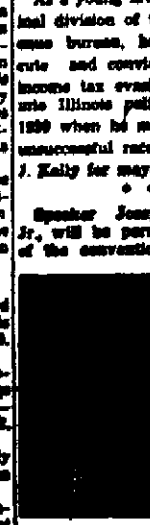
A "favorite son" presidential candidate, 51-year-old Gov Green will be supported in the early balloting by most of his state delegation's 58 votes. He has been frequently mentioned as a vice presidential possibility.

Green is a "rock-ribbed" Republican who attacks "Democratic bungling" of foreign affairs, housing, Communism and the Palestine situation.

As a young lawyer in the criminal division of the internal revenue bureau, he helped prosecute and convict Al Capone of income tax evasion. He stepped into Illinois political spotlight in 1930 when he made a strong but unsuccessful race against Edward J. Kelly for mayor of Chicago.

* * *

Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., will be permanent chairman of the convention for the third consecutive time. ... This record equals that established by another Republican from Massachusetts. The elder Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was permanent chairman in 1900, 1908, and 1920.



REP. MARTIN

Martin, who presides over the house, will wield the gavel when the convention gets down to the main business of adopting a party platform and balloting for presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Martin himself is a prominent "dark horse" possibility for the presidential nomination. A 65-year-old bachelor, he has been in congress 24 years. An astute, practical politician, he is rated high as a pace-setter in future party councils.

Rev. Fr. Spickerman Paid Tribute on Anniversary

Parishioners and friends filled St Mary Catholic church Sunday morning when the pastor, Very Rev William J Spickerman, V F celebrated a solemn high mass in observance of the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood Later in the day a class of candidates was initiated in his honor by Marion Council No 671, Knights of Columbus, there was a public reception, followed by solemn benediction and a banquet in his honor. Speaker for the banquet was Bishop Michael J Ready, head of the Columbus diocese Preceding the banquet Rev Spickerman was presented an automobile, a gift from parishioners and friends and a spiritual bouquet from the pupils of St Mary Parochial school.

The anniversary sermon was delivered by Rev Francis B Lay, assistant pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, Cincinnati, a former assistant pastor here and St. Mary choir sang the mass For the celebrant, Rev. Spickerman, Rev. Jerome E Bartel, deacon, and Rev. Everett G Depenbrock, sub-deacon, wore the gold vestments of the church and wearing the purple robes of the monsignori were Monsignor Rupert Goebel of St Peter's church, Mansfield, and Monsignor Anthony Mentink of St. Patrick's church, Troy Rev Bartel, who is pastor of the Church of the Nativity in Cincinnati, is a former classmate of Rev Spickerman, and Rev. Depenbrock is chaplain of Mercy Rest hospital at Springfield.

Assisting Priests

Friar Terrance Tobin, O M C, of Our Lady of Carey seminary, Carey, was master of ceremonies and assisting in the sanctuary were Rev Elmer Boyden and Rev Hugh Murphy, assistant pastors here On the center and side altars were gold vases filled with red roses Members of the Fourth degree Knights of Columbus, headed the procession of priests from the rectory to the church for the mass and for the recessional

Describing a priest as a man to whom others turn on the most joyful days of their lives as well as on the saddest, to whom everyone turns trustfully in bodily or spiritual misery because they know that to be a priest means to be a dispenser of divine love, "the priesthood," Rev Lay said, "is the sublimest vocation that can fall to the lot of man Only he is fitted for it in whom burns the inextinguishable fire of real to serve Christ with all his thoughts, in all his plans, hopes, ambitions, with every heartbeat to devote himself to Christ's work, the rescue of souls, the spreading of God's kingdom"

Reminding his listeners that "often the priest kneels before the altar to thank God for the sublime dignity to which he has been called Rev Lay admonished them to "pray that the priest may have no thought but for Christ and the salvation of souls entrusted to his care and "to thank Almighty God for having allowed your good pastor to have spent forty years in His services, for having given half of these years to St Mary's parish"

Results 40 Years

Recalling Rev Spickerman's work not only as a pastor but in the community, he paid the following tribute to the celebrant "Father Spickerman, on this fortieth anniversary of your ordination, we can only have a feeling of sincerest gratitude for allowing us to participate in some measure in your joy You have indeed been an exemplary embodiment of the ideals of the priesthood, a model example in the fulfillment of the duties and obligations of this divine calling For these past 40 years you have given unselfishly and self-sacrificingly of your time and energy to bring the peace of Christ into the hearts of more and more of God's creatures. It wasn't an easy task you assumed here in 1923—but your zeal and joy in dispensing the treasures of the church to your flock in the ensuing years was accompanied by your pride and interest in civic affairs Your words of wisdom, your example and priestly actions have left an indelible mark of good in this community, bringing about a closer spirit of harmony, a better understanding of the peace of Christ. You have served the Prince of Peace well We congratulate you most heartily, and are tempted to be somewhat envious of your record, for we are certain you fully understand and treasure the meaning of those words uttered centuries ago by the royal Psalmist: "Thou art a priest forever according to the order of Melchisedech."

Expresses Gratitude

Before the close of the mass Rev. Spickerman entered the pulpit to express his gratitude for having been given the privilege of being a priest of God, his appreciation to his fellow clergymen, parishioners and friends, and to Bishop Michael J Ready for having permitted him to remain as pastor here

Following the informal reception from 3 to 4 o'clock in the school yard, Rev. Spickerman was the celebrant for solemn benediction. Rev. Benedict Rubeck, O. F. M., of Our Lady of Carey Seminary, Carey, was deacon and Rev. James Carroll, of Holy Family church, Columbus, and a former pastor here, was sub-deacon.

Thomas E. Andrews presided for the presentation ceremony and the automobile was presented by L. A. Axe, Richard Schuler, president of the senior class of 1948 of St. Mary High school, presented the spiritual bouquet.

Covers were placed for 400 at the banquet served in Moore hall where the tables were decorated with arrangements of roses, lavender and cyanopsida, and streamers of red and white extended from the pillars throughout the room At the back of the speaker's table was a banner bearing the anniversary dates and the Latin inscription "Thou are a Priest Forever" The welcome was extended by Floyd Cornely, grand knight of Marion Council, Knights of Columbus, and toastmaster was Rev William O Donnell, Ph. D., pastor of Mt Carmel church in Cleveland and past state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus Speaking on behalf of the city was Mayor Harry L. Dowler Thomas E. Andrews, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, and general chairman, presented the state officers, assistant priests at St. Mary for the last 20 years and former students of St Mary parish ordained to the priesthood

Tribute To Mother

Rev Bartel in remunsring, paid tribute to Rev Spickerman's mother, recalling her ideals imparted to him and his associates, and told entertaining incidents of their associations throughout their seminary years and those that followed. In his talk Rev Spickerman recalled humorous incidents of earlier years and referred to his associations of 20 years in Marion as an example of Americanism, where there is cooperation in educational, athletic and community fields and in speaking of his anniversary expressed the hope that 'as years go on the memory of this happy occasion will never fade"

Bishop Ready bespoke the greetings of the diocese in congratulating Rev Spickerman and expressed appreciation of the work he has done in the diocese, state and country as a priest and as state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus All of you, this morning with the priest, thanked God for the blessing which came through his ordination your prayers were sincere because a priest means so much in your life, Bishop Ready said Citing the present day lack of reverence for good, sanctity of faith, lack of justice and Christian virtues, and pointing to the contribution a worthy priest makes in a community in making known these truths, "certainly in these trying days we need priests to lead the way for recognition of justice and in the way of peace he added.

"We can extol the priesthood from many angles, scientists, explorers, in the literary field, in all human achievements," Bishop Ready continued, "but for us, we particularly love his character of the good shepherd; that is why in Catholic hearts he is a father, one who protects, guides and leads. It is the pastor and people that make for success, his leadership and the cooperation of the people Edward McHugh spoke on behalf of the Knights of Columbus.

Visiting Priests

Present for the day's exercises were Bishop Ready, Monsignor Mentink, Monsignor Goebel, Rev L W Scannell, director of the propogation of the Faith of the Diocese of Columbus, Rev. Bartel, Rev. PHILADELPHIA

CONVENTION aide—gists

A new surprise compromise ticket to lead the Republican party to presidential victory after 16 famished years was proposed today by Henry Louis Mencken

"I'm in favor of a ticket with Herbert Hoover for president and Alf Landon for vice president," said Baltimore's peppery literary sage.

"Hoover is the buggy, and Landon is the horse."

When it was pointed out to him by an innocent bystander that he was putting the cart before the horse, Mencken, who doesn't think the "horse and buggy days" were as bad as some people paint them, said:

"That might be a good idea today"

Sprightly in a blue polka dot tie, dark blue suit and light seersucker trousers, Mencken said he had attended his first national political conventions in 1904 and that he had "come back from the grave after eight years" to see this one

"I figure this will be my last one," he smiled with his usual cheery cynicism. He will be 68 this year

"I don't know who'll get the nomination. But these conventions are all the same They don't vary by one per cent. All bla-aa-ah

"Dewey's improved a lot He speaks the best English of any man in public life today"

But Mencken immediately retreated into the shell which marks him as one of the most non-partisan men at the convention

"I really am completely neutral," he grinned "I'm against 'em all"

• • •

ONE OF THE FIRST things you notice at a convention is the "lobby look"

This is a kind of frozen-faced grimace of welcome which people wear when being introduced to other people while they are looking around for still more important people

It is a "lobby look" because that is where you see it most often—in hotel lobbies It can be worn with courtesy better by men delegates than by women

The reason is simple. When one man greets another here, both can clap each other on the back and still look over the other fellow's shoulder for some person he would rather see Women, being prisoners of an older convention, polite rather than political, can't do that. The feminine version of the "lobby look" is a creased face and a wandering eye that says "where are you, dear, I'd rather be with"

• • •

I SUPPOSE this is the year when the Republican party will be a gang of the virtuous and I set to work to find young and pure in heart who like myself have never heard of the story

A member of a southern delegation was asked what his group stood for He replied

Some of us is for peace some of us is for Taft—but all of us is for sure

• • •

THERE ARE THOSE who believe that Senator Arthur Vandenberg [illegible] a man can't be a statesman unless he has contended for but has never disclaimed There are [illegible] who have been heard crediting the senator's son

One of his supporters told me an interesting incident

Some months ago Senator Vandenberg [illegible] Grand Rapids. The wizened statesman sneaked out the order in a park across the street

A [illegible] on the bench [illegible] Vandenberg [illegible] his name on the [illegible] necessities

Later on, he said, I want to talk to you about that boy

The bum [illegible] Afterward he said "I know who you are Senator"

Vandenberg [illegible] the situation and [illegible] his wife and [illegible] the surgeon's knife The [illegible] his head He was against operations

Gas Almost Choked Him

"My stomach swelled with gas until I could hardly breathe," said one man living near here. "I couldn't sleep, in fact had horrible nights. Was always constipated. I got INNER-AID. Oh! what relief! It worked so much gas from me that my stomach reduced 4 inches. Can breathe freely again. Sleep soundly now. Bowels also have been given a Great Cleansing."

INNER-AID is the new mixture of 12 Juices from Nature's Herbs. It has relieved many people who had never been really helped before by any medicine Taken shortly before meals it mixes with your food, thus eliminating the poisons that foster stomach trouble. It will cleanse the bowels, clear gas from stomach, enliven liver and remove old bile from the system. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.—Adv.

WHY "Stepping Down" IS SO IMPORTANT TO YOU

Hudson assures motor-car world by using vital "step-down" zone—not available in any other car—to bring you riding qualities and safety beyond anything known before!

Word's going 'round—and fast, too—that Hudson gives you a "sweet," smooth, safe ride that is a new high in motor-car performance!

Perhaps you've heard pleased and proud Hudson owners talking about this exciting new experience, but here's something you may have missed hearing:

The key to this amazing new ride lies in that area just under the floor of the average car, which in the New Hudson becomes the "step-down" zone—as illustrated in the sketches at the right.

This "step-down" zone is all-important, because experience has shown that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the better it will handle, the more stability it will have, the safer it will be, and thus the more enjoyable and comfortable will be your ride.

Hudson, and Hudson alone, has accomplished a near miracle of low-built streamlining and smooth, safe, comfortable riding with a new type of base frame which surrounds the passenger compartment, and thus permits the floor to be lowered down within it. Recessing the floor creates the "step-down" zone and a center of gravity that is the lowest in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample!

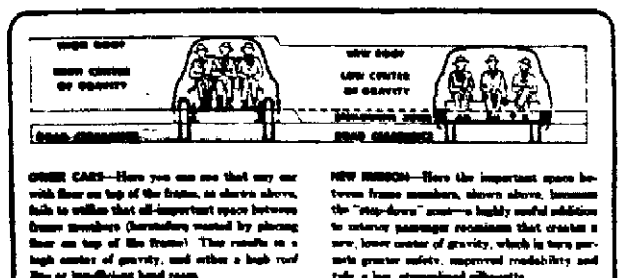
That's why Hudson has a hug-the-road way of going, even in cross-winds, and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see how this car takes even the sharpest curves, it will spoil you for any other type of automobile! You sense this delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride; and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, gives you a grand feeling of safe well-being.

Sitting in this car is as downright satisfying as stretching out in your favorite easy chair. You ride on seats that are lowered and cradled ahead of the rear wheels and, even with its low silhouette, this breathtakingly beautiful motor car gives you more head room than any other mass-produced car built today!

Hudson's use of the vital "step-down" zone in its exclusive, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* is a development that required years of engineering work, the perfection of new production techniques, and millions of dollars in highly specialized new plant investment. Perhaps this explains why Hudson alone offers this new design principle today.

The nearest Hudson dealer has a booklet—yours for the asking—which explains how "stepping down" brings you advantages beyond anything known before! Hudson Motor Car Co., Detroit 14.

*Trade-mark and patents pending.



OTHER CARS—Here you can see that any car with floor on top of the frame, as shown above, fails to utilize that all-important space between frame members (heretofore wasted by placing floor on top of the frame) That results in a high center of gravity, and either a high roof line or insufficient head room

NEW HUDSON—Here the important space between frame members, shown above, becomes the "step-down" zone—a highly useful addition to interior passenger roominess that creates a new, lower center of gravity, which in turn permits greater safety, improved roadability and ride, a low, streamlined silhouette

This time it's Hudson

MAGAZINE FEATURES MARION STORE STORY

Article on Schaffners Carried in National Publication.

The Schaffner Furniture Co. locating here 82 years ago as a coffin and furniture and undertaking business, is subject of a feature article in a recent issue of "House Furnishing Review," the furniture business magazine of housewares and appliances.

The article complete with several photos of the store and company executives, tells about the "Evolution of an undertaker who was more interested in life than death."

The original company the article relates, was founded by the late Henry Schaffner, a cabinet maker of Swiss ancestry, who started out by making caskets as well as cabinets for the people of Marion. He first opened his shop in 1866.

Operation of the company has remained in Schaffner family hands starting with founder Henry Schaffner and continuing through his son Frank and grandson Wilfred. Wilfred Schaffner is president and director of the furniture firm, and secretary-treasurer of the Schaffner Burial Co. The company employs 42 persons.

Accompanying the article are photos of Wilfred Schaffner, his son John who is a member of the store operating corporation, pictures of the store as it looked in 1906 and as it looks today and a picture of J. H. Neve, advertising manager and Harry Marguarth buyer conferring on present-day problems.

BACK WITH MOTHER. Fondly embracing her son William in New York is Mrs. Helen Knapp who was freed of charges of neglecting him after the boy told the judge he loved her and wanted to return home with her. The youngster had disappeared some weeks ago and was found the following day in a coal bin suffering from malnutrition.

Girl Scout Members Entertain Mothers

Girl Scout Troops Nos. 24 and 25 of George Washington school entertained their mothers at a luncheon recently at the Ohio Public Service Co. terminal building. Tables were decorated with roses and peonies. Patty Clingenpeel welcomed the guests and entertainment included accordion music by Dr. C. E. Hershey and pictures shown by P. L. Loveland. Hostess badges will be awarded the scouts for assisting in preparing and furnishing the food under the supervision of Miss Ruth Kleinmaier assisted by Miss Betty Johnson. Miss Johnson and Miss Fern Ensminger, home economics students at Ohio State university, have completed a six weeks practical training course under Miss Kleinmaier, home service director with the Ohio Public Service Co. Jane Corbin, Girl Scout secretary presented a Girl Scout handkerchief and autograph book to Miss Kleinmaier as a gift from the leader of the group. Mrs. Milton M. Guiss is leader and Mrs. Cleala Falke assistant leader of the troops. A trip to the Perkins observatory near Delaware is scheduled for June 24.

HOSTESS TO SOCIETY

Mrs. Charles Lamb was hostess to the Missionary Society of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon at her home at 223 North Seffner avenue. Mrs. Agnes Starner conducted devotions and the lesson topic "Fellow World Citizens" was discussed by Mrs. James O'Dowd and Mrs. Walter Minshall. Guests were Mrs. T. J. Moon, Mrs. Haskell Metz and Mrs. Kenneth Lamb. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Frank Phillips.

School Band Leaders At Ohio U Workshop

Foster L. Bowe, Lee P. Arena and Sarah J. Phillips of Bucyrus, Mt. Gilead and Galion respectively are among the more than 125 high school bandsmen and instructors participating in the second annual summer band clinic-workshop at Ohio university at Athens, the university news bureau reported. The band clinic and workshop will run two weeks, ending June 27.

About 105 bandsmen from Ohio and West Virginia schools are enrolled along with 21 instructors from Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri. Guest conductors are A. V. C. H. Figal, director of bands and orchestra at Iowa State college for the first week and Mark H. Hindsley, assistant director of bands at the University of Illinois for the second week.

The program will include daily full band rehearsals, daily sectional rehearsals, concerts and individualized and specialized private instructions. Evenings will be devoted to numerous recreational activities and concerts.

In 1945 the U. S. postoffice handled 14,277,000 "dead" letters which could not be delivered because of improper addresses.

HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

Mrs. Ray Kleber was hostess when the Women's Missionary circle of the First Evangelical and Reformed church met Wednesday night at her home on North Seffner avenue. A duet by Mrs. Earl Houser and Miss Dora Jacobs was followed by devotions by Mrs. C. G. Nuetzel. A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. Otto Arteperna, missionaries in India and it was announced that the "quarter for quarts" fund would be used to provide relief for children in China. Miss Freda Wagner gave the lesson study from the book "Commissioned Unto Us." Miss Grace Hoffman read a letter from Barbara Whitener stationed at a mission in China. Refreshments were served.

What's the Hottest News in Cars since the Self-Starter?

For the answer to that, just ask any man who drives a Dynaflow Buick.

He'll tell you, you haven't seen anything yet — until you slip behind a Dynaflow wheel and see for yourself what this new drive does.

It isn't merely that it's easy — though all you do in normal driving is set a lever, press the gas treadle, and steer.

It isn't merely the "stunts" you can pull, such as coming to a dead stop on a steep hill, then moving smoothly away, just by the way you manage the gas treadle.

The important thing is that Dynaflow Drive* marks a basic change in the way power is delivered from the engine to the rear wheels.

The idea of passing through a series of gears in fixed stages, either manually or by mechanical means, is gone entirely.

Instead, spinning off is so cunningly directed and controlled in the Dynaflow unit that it instantly shapes engine power to fit any normal driving need.

When you start, it steps up engine "torque" like a low gear to give you swift, surging getaway.

When you accelerate or climb, it fits the pull of the engine to that particular job.

When you cruise on the level open road, it delivers power with a flowing smoothness that is far silkier than the normal high.

You have manual control of direction simply by moving a lever. You have reserve braking power instantly at your command — and extra power for emergency pulls.

But there is never any clutch-work — there is no clutch-pedal. And never any gearshifting as the old sense—your power plant does what the forward gears used to do.

Right now, of course, Dynaflow Drive is available only on Buick Roadmaster models.

Go find out about it, at the nearest Buick dealer — and be ready to put your order in, whether or not you have a car to trade.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Nicked With a Sickle

WIDESPREAD walkouts of workmen in France, Belgium, Italy and England demonstrate that Communist power to do damage to these countries hasn't been eliminated by the promise of American assistance.

The question is whether it ever can be. If Communists can't be dislodged from the union movement in the United States, Americans are being naively hopeful when they think they may be able to get rid of them in the countries marked for Marshall plan assistance.

The Reds will do everything they can to sabotage European aid with the same sucker fringe they rely on in the United States. It will be their strategy to try to bleed the aid program to death by nicking it with the Communist sickle at every opportunity. Meanwhile, to the best of their ability, they will be doing the same thing in the United States.

The only possibility of success in spite of them is that their ability to do damage may be whittled to the disappearing point by information about their tactics. Communists in the labor movement are helpless without the assistance of the sucker fringe that helps them carry on their mischief. There aren't as many candidates for the sucker fringe in this country as there used to be. Working people have begun to understand that communism has nothing to offer them but the same kind of political tyranny that caused millions of Europeans to seek freedom in the United States.

When Money Doesn't Talk

ALL HOPE of economic recovery in western Germany hinges on a stabilized system of currency. That is why the western Allies have taken bold steps to get rid of the virtually worthless money now in circulation and replace it with a new issue. No modern society can get along without a medium of exchange.

The Soviet Union knows this, of course, and may try to sabotage the new system in western Germany. But it's unlikely that anything which might happen to the new money could be worse than what happened to the old money. Germans couldn't afford to take it in exchange for labor or goods; it had only nominal value. One package of American cigarets was worth 100 marks, or a week's pay for an average white collar worker. Everybody with anything to barter sidestepped the currency system in order to live. The real basis of value in Germany wasn't the mark, supposedly worth about 10 cents, but a package of cigarets, actually worth seven loaves of bread, and so on. Coffee, chocolate and soap also have been favorite standards of barter.

The new money system may not work. Perhaps—and this isn't meant to be facetious—cigarets might work better. But unless something can be made to work it is vain to think about economic reconstruction in Germany. Worthless currencies are one of the ugliest blights spread by war. What has happened in Germany is different only in degree, not in kind, from what has happened in every country whose wasted resources are reflected in the declining value of the medium of exchange. The United States has the problem, too.

Second Time Around

EIGHT years ago congress took up the matter of selective service. Debate was bitter. Many had strong reservations. But the bill became law. Congress decided to play safe.

Selectees (a word that suddenly became commonplace) were to be called up for only one year. On Oct. 29, 1940, Secretary of War Stimson drew the first selective service number—158. Letters containing "greetings" began to fill the mails. The song, "I'll Be Back in a Year, Little Darlin'," became popular with hillbilly bands.

Uniforms became common sights on the streets of the nation. They represented the security the country needed after Pearl Harbor.

This year another selective service act has been before congress. Debate has been bitter. Many had strong reservations. Congress has played safe. This is as far as the second story goes at this time. But so far the second script reads the same as the first.

Clarifying Matters

THE supreme court has taken another step toward clarifying the powers of congressional investigating committees. It has turned down pleas by 11 members of the joint anti-fascist refugee committee who refused to produce records for inspection. Last March it refused to review the case on an admitted Communist who would not be sworn.

These decisions leave in force a series of rulings made in the 1920's which hold congress can grant its committees almost unlimited powers of inquiry. The only restriction laid down is that the questions must be pertinent to the matter under investigation.

The one point left to be decided is: can a witness refuse to answer questions which he believes violate his constitutional rights? A federal district court has ruled they must answer such questions. The high court will rule on that next year.

What's Ahead for GOP

By Walter Lippmann

MR. TRUMAN has been trying to make it appear that the country must choose between what this Congress actually has done and what he had asked it to do. But that is not in fact the issue. For while Mr. Truman can denounce the record of Congress, he could not, even if he were elected, hope to do anything about it. In the three years he has been President he has been unable to lead his own party in Congress, much less influence the Republican party.

LIPPMANN

Only the Philadelphia convention can deal with the issue created by the bold and ruthless actions of Messrs. Martin, Taber, Allen and Halleck. For their actions are designed deliberately as a prelude to the Philadelphia convention: to seize control of the party and of the next administration.

Their chief aim is not economy. It is not to protect young men against the draft. It is not isolationism or nationalism. It is political power, it is office, it is patronage, it is the service of lobbyists and special interests.

They are out to defeat Vandenberg, Stassen, Warren and as regards Dewey, to defeat him if possible, to envelop and get a grip on him if they cannot nominate their own man.

The calculations of Speaker Martin and his organization are plain enough. They feel certain that the weakness of Truman, the candidacy of Henry Wallace, the demoralization and poverty of the Democratic organization mean that the nominees at Philadelphia will be elected.

There is no need in their view to have a party record, or to have candidates who appeal either to the independent and progressive voters or to those who are concerned with the foreign policy of the United States.

They believe that any Republican can be elected in November, that they do not, therefore, have to think about defeating the Democrats, and can concentrate on a right to control the Republican party.

Campaign Plan

The plan of their campaign has been to make a Republican record in Congress that no one but a Martin or a Bricker could defend, that Vandenberg, Stassen and Warren would be bound to repudiate, that Dewey and even Taft would have to stultify themselves to accept.

The worse the record, the better for them.

They have struck paralyzing blows at the two main measures of the bipartisan foreign policy: the ECA and military rearmament, but they have not stopped there, they have dealt no less destructively with housing and education, that is to say with the measures that distinguish Taft from the absolutely unreconstructed reactionaries.

The paramount issue at Philadelphia therefore is this bid for power which has been organized by Speaker Martin.

If this faction wins at Philadelphia, it is certain that the campaign will be as bitter, as confusing and as demoralizing as any in American history.

For them both parties will be a collection of angry and hopeless factions, and there will be no national leadership around which the people can rally and unite. The Martin-Taber-Allen-Halleck junta might be elected. But the new administration could never unite the country, could never unite the Republican party.

The people who have looked to Vandenberg, to Stassen, to Eisenhower, to Roosevelt, the great mass of the people who hope for a better world and wish to do their duty in a difficult and dangerous world, could not be represented in such an administration. They would be on the outside, frustrated and helpless, condemned to watch with ever deepening anxiety the descent of their country into danger.

Can Be Defeated

But though this reactionary bid for power is formidable, it can be repulsed and defeated. It can be repulsed in the resolutions committee by the adoption of a platform that fits men like Vandenberg, Stassen, Dewey and Warren; it can be defeated by the nomination of a ticket which, though a compromise among these men, is uncompromising in respect to the Martin-Taber-Allen-Halleck faction.

A Vandenberg-Dewey or a Vandenberg-Stassen ticket would do that clearly and unmistakably. A Dewey ticket with a vice-presidentdent chosen to buy off the opposition of the Martin faction would leave the future in grave doubt. For it would mean that Mr. Dewey had given hostages, and that he could not free himself with a bitter intraparty struggle.

Heads Up, Bald Men

BALD MEN should stop worrying, a health investigator says—their lost hair wasn't good for much anyway.

Miss J. A. Sheppard, writing in the health magazine of the American Medical Association, brushes aside such esthetic considerations as appearance.

She says hair has little practical use. She describes it as a limp vegetable growth which, so far as is known, does not receive nourishment from the body.

Miss Sheppard also scorns the theory that a man who lacks hair lacks manliness also. Mere ancient superstition, she says.

She concedes, however, that some men may look upon their hair as an asset to their appearance. No cure, however, is known for baldness that comes with age and the deterioration of body cells, and similarly, premature baldness is hopeless, because most such cases are inherited.

For baldness due to microbes in the scalp, early treatment can prevent further loss. Miss Sheppard says microbes thrive on an oily scalp, and she recommends frequent brushing and shampooing as a preventive measure.

Instead of a cure, Miss Sheppard suggests a new philosophy of baldness, in which men forget about its effect on their appearance.

Fight for Control of Congress

Democrats Eye Narrow GOP Margin in Senate.

POPULAR political interest this year is centered on the presidential campaign, as usual. But among politicians close attention is being given to Congress.

Politicians are aware of the possibility that while Republicans are winning the presidency they might lose control of the Senate.

Republicans now hold 51 of the Senate's 96 seats. Democrats have the other 45. There are 33 Senate seats to be filled in November.

Fifteen of these seats are now held by Democrats. Eleven are in the South, where Democrats always win. If Democrats could hold all their present places and gain four seats from Republicans, they would have a Senate majority in the 81st Congress.

The real story of the situation is in the background of the 18 contests that Republicans must win to hold their own. Eight are in states dominated by Republicans, they are in the bag. Five are in states where their margin of victory in the last election gives Republicans reasonable security.

In the five remaining contests Democrats have a chance. These are in Illinois (Senator Brooks), Kentucky, (Senator Cooper), Oklahoma (Senator Moore), West Virginia (Senator Revercomb), and Wyoming (Senator Robertson). Senator Moore is not a candidate for re-election.

Democrats have danger points, also. They are New Mexico, Colorado and Montana. In New Mexico, a former cabinet member, Clinton P. Anderson has won the Democratic nomination and will run against Patrick J. Hurley, who polled 49 per cent of the vote in the senatorial race against Senator Chavez in 1946.

The outcome in Colorado and Montana looks like a toss up.

A major factor in the outcome of the senatorial elections may be the strategy of labor unions, which seem likely to stay on the sidelines in the presidential contest and save their money and energy for congressional contests. No one knows whether this strategy will be successful, but it is being watched closely. If it works—if the unions can work in politics effectually at the state level—the threat of party realignments voiced by union executives such as Walter Reuther will have to be taken seriously.

The Republican grasp on the House of Representatives is considered too strong to break. There are 243 Republican members, only 185 Democrats and two from the American Labor party with three vacancies. It would take a major upset for Democrats to whittle down the Republican majority, though the effect of union labor's campaigns of revenge against House members who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act will be watched closely.

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

If It Takes All Winter?

PHILADELPHIA—The Republican national convention opens here today.

Most of the avowed candidates have already arrived in this. The City of Brotherly Love . . . as it was formerly known.

The town is really crowded. There's not a single available room for a delegate . . . to say nothing of a stable for a dark horse.

The Republicans are met here for the avowed purpose of nominating the next president of the United States. And about time, too, seeing as how—to hear them tell it—we haven't had one for three years.

The convention has really taken over the city. Those natives who were not able to secure refugee quarters in Atlantic City have gone underground for the duration.

Nothing is cheap here, with the possible exception of talk. Some houses are renting for as much as a thousand dollars a day. That's why there may be a plank in the GOP platform calling for a return of rent control . . . if only to apply to smoke-filled rooms.

Incidentally, it looks more and more like a deadlocked convention. Why else would so many delegates be asking for monthly salary?

Daily Bible Thought

We preach and teach every day, even though we are silent our deeds or failures speak volumes. —2 Tri. 1:1: "I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the gentiles."

I have never heard anything about the resolutions of the apostles, but a great deal about their acts.—Horace Mann.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, June 21, 1938.

Summer arrived at 9:04 p. m. and marked the longest day of the year. The thermometer registered 90 degrees with a low of 60.

Frank Schaffner, 77, president of the H. Schaffner Co. and chairman of the Schaffner-Denzer Co. died at his home on South State street.

Employes of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. voted 470 to 232 to have the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, a CIO affiliate, as their bargaining agent.

Commander Francis S. Layton, 33, of Cooper Post No. 117, G.A.R. and a past state department commander, was one of 35 veterans registered at the annual state encampment at Columbus. The group, last of Ohio's estimated 125 remaining veterans of the Civil war, included Albert Anderson and John H. Somick of Kenton, Thomas Ridenour of Crestline and Cyrus Stamets of Richwood.

A dinner and program at Ringer's Inn closed the season for the Never Fail club. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Beaver Bricker, Mrs. Sperry Long and Mrs. Emmett Burnett.

The Ladies Aid society, Circle No. 2, of the U. B. church, was entertained at the home of Mrs. Leo Stoner in Mansfield. In the group were Mrs. G. F. Sands, Mrs. B. K. Hill, Mrs. L. Parker, Mrs. O. Miller, Mrs. H. Prettyman, Mrs. G. Thrush, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. F. Shoemaker, Mrs. C. Wenninger, Misses Joan Gattos and Jean Park.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, June 21, 1928.

No word was received from Rene Guilbaud and Roals Amundsen, Arctic fliers. General Umberto Nobilile and a crew of five who had disappeared in their dirigible Italia while searching for the missing fliers were found safe on an ice floe, off the coast of Northeast Land. Ten other members of the Nobile expedition were still missing.

Democratic leaders from all sections of the country were assembling in Houston, Tex., for the national nominating convention.

Willard Beicher of New York City was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Beicher of Pearl street.

G. H. Flaherty, a former resident of Marion, and also once a member of Marion's fire department, landed his airplane, a sister-ship of the "Spirit of St. Louis," the plane which carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic, on a farm field four miles north of Marion. He said he had circled the city for 35 minutes before finding a suitable place to land. This was pointed to as evidence of the need of an airport here and also the need of having the name of the city printed in large letters in some conspicuous place.

Miss Kathryn Norris and Nell Mae Sampson, brides-elect in weddings set for June, were guests of honor at a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Frank Bowe at her home on Superior street.

Mrs. Minnie W. Leech, 86, died at her home on Ellis court.

The Next President

Could Be History's Youngest—or Oldest.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—The next president may be the youngest, or the oldest, in United States history.

If 41-year-old Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota wins the Republican nomination and the election, he will be the youngest of our chief executives.

If 68-year-old General Douglas MacArthur is the Republican nominee and is elected, he will be the oldest man to take over the presidency.

Youngest president was Theodore Roosevelt, who at 42 stepped up from the vice presidency after the assassination of McKinley in 1901.

Oldest president was William Henry Harrison, inaugurated 23 days after his 68th birthday. If General MacArthur becomes the next president, his inauguration will take place six days before his 69th birthday.

President Harrison, old warrior of Tippecanoe fame, rode his white horse from the White House to the capitol on a wintry inauguration day. He contracted pneumonia after standing in a raw wind for an hour while delivering his inaugural address. He died exactly one month after his inauguration.

Next two oldest presidents were James Buchanan and Zachary Taylor, 65 and 64, at their inaugurations.

Harry Truman was 60 when he succeeded President Roosevelt and if he is elected next fall will be 64 at his second inauguration.

Second youngest president was Ulysses S. Grant, who was 46 when he took office. Youngest presidential nominee was William Jennings Bryan. He was 36 when he was first chosen Democratic standard bearer in 1896.

Politics Still a Man's World

Woman Legislator Tells the Reasons Why.

AFTER more than a quarter of a century of suffrage, women in elective public office are still so rare as to be a novelty. Only seven women are serving in the U. S. House of Representatives; only 38 have been members of the House since women won the right to be elected to Congress. Of the 38, only 26 were elected to full terms. The rest were appointed. There are no women in the U. S. Senate, though five have sat in the Senate. All were appointed to fill unexpired terms. One was later elected twice to hold office on her merit.

Bernice T. Van der Vries, a member of the Illinois General Assembly, points to this evidence of women's failure to take their proper place in government in the current issue of State Government and suggests there is something wrong. In 1946, she says, only 211 women were elected to state legislatures. Only 12 states have a woman or women in their senates. In eight states women hold elective state administrative offices. In 156,000 local units of government, probably not more than 1,000 women are holding office.

The picture is better in non-elective offices on the administrative side of government. The number of women in appointive positions is increasing.

Miss Van der Vries believes the failure of women to hold elective office is caused by the domination of political parties by men. Candidates, therefore, are usually men. Organized support for women office-seekers is hard to win until they have established themselves. Furthermore, the cost of seeking office is prohibitive for women who lack private income.

The physical stress of campaigning is too great for many women to endure. If elected, the woman official finds so many calls on her time that she is unable to take care of a family. Many women holding office are widows.

There is a bright side, however. Miss Van der Vries finds no discrimination against women after they are elected.

"To summarize," she says, "women have made a poor showing in the securing of elective offices, a better showing in obtaining administrative positions, and, I believe, a good record in office itself. In all fairness to the sex, it should be emphasized, also, that in the work of citizenship education women have gone far beyond men . . . Those of us women who hold office and have found that we can take our places in the work of solving governmental problems along with men, on an equal basis, believe it obvious to all thinking citizens that women are needed in making the United States a strong nation, able to give leadership to all the world. Shall there be more or less women in government?" It is up to the women—two million stronger than men in population, and in possession of a large proportion of the wealth of the United States—to make the final decision on that question."

Designing the New Hen Stamp

(President Signs Bill For Stamp Honoring Poultry Industry."—News Item.)

Postmaster-General—Well we have to get out another stamp.

Designer—What do we honor this time, the discovery of gold, the inventor of the walkie-talky or the discoverer of lipstick?

P.-G.—The hen.

Designer—Hen Wallace?

P.-G.—No; the other egg layer.

Designer—What's it done now?

P.-G.—I guess it's a matter of recognition of past performances. The hen has been around a long time and always done its best.

Designer—Do you want her on a postage stamp setting, laying or roostin'?

P.-G.—That's for discussion. How about showing her with a brood of chicks?

Designer—Is there room on a 3-cent stamp?

P.-G.—There is on the kind we are turning out these days.

* * *

Designer—If we are going to honor a hen, how about working in an egg?

P.-G.—Hard boiled or soft?

Designer—Possible a festoon of omelettes for a border.

P.-G.—We mustn't emphasize the food angle, especially at present levels of chickens and eggs. I think we should limit the design to the chicken alone.

* * *

Designer—Now the question arises of what kind of chicken. What would you say to Southern fried?

P.-G.—With Waffles?

Designer—I'm asking about a stamp, not taking a dinner order.

P.-G.—My mistake. Cancel the Southern fried. We don't want to have another war between the North and South all over a 3-cent stamp.

* * *

Designer—How about a rotisserie chicken . . . we could show it turning over and over against a background of flames?

P.-G.—I have it. Why not make this a chicken-pie stamp?

Designer—You know very well there is never anything like chicken in a chicken pie.

* * *

P.-G.—Maybe we had better stick to a live hen.

Designer—Do you like a hen profile or a front view?

P.-G.—I prefer a profile. Washington and Lincoln looked okay full view on a stamp, but I'm a little afraid of hens that way.

Designer—Hmm. Did the Congress specify any particular breed of hen?

P.-G.—I hear the Republicans were for the white Leghorns, but the Democrats favored the buff Cochin. In committee conferences they finally compromised on a hen combining the best features of each, with a touch of Plymouth Rock to please New England.

Designer—Very well. I'll get busy and submit some designs.

P. G.—How will I know when you have accomplished something?

Designer—I'll cluck.

Aw, don't give up so easily!

Kids Are People

By TRUMAN TWILL

One of those things that child-care columns are written about has come to attention — a pamphlet on how to enjoy children. It was written by Dr. James L. Hymes Jr., who seems to know his stuff.

In other words, he agrees that the most important discovery any parent can make about children is the fact they are practically indestructible. With that in mind, the important thing is to enjoy them.

Doc Hymes shows his good sense on another point too. The way to enjoy children is to give them credit for having just as good sense about most things as their parents—not to hover over them like a mother hen.

Feed them, love them, keep them reasonably warm in cold weather, joke with them—and let it go at that. Lay off the hovering attitude and above all go easy on the nagging.

Or if the tendency is to go to the other extreme and be overly cool and distant, in the notion that military discipline is what a growing child should be given to build his character, lay off that too. Kids are human beings, not Prussian soldiers.

It's easier to break their hearts than their arms and legs. But even their hearts have the resiliency of rubber if given half a chance. That's all they need—half a chance.

This is something grandparents know, having been through the mill. But a lot of parents must find it out the hard way. They're so anxious to do the helpful thing they miss the point about children, which is that they're human.

They have likes and dislikes and are factory-equipped with instincts that are more reliable than the notions of their mothers and fathers. When they're hungry, they eat. When they're not hungry, they don't. When they're healthy they bubble over, and when they're not healthy they mope.

They like to be patted on the head. They like to share a joke. They like to get dirty and let their imaginations run wild. They have a right to make mistakes and to score triumphs, according to their own lights.

They want to feel that they are cherished and that occasionally they do something which is just right. They sulk when they're nagged at and bickered over just like grownups.

All this might be summed up as the humanitarian approach to the problems of parenthood—and Doc Hymes Jr. deserves credit for putting down the proposition in black and white.

His pamphlet, published by the Public Affairs Committee, will help to undo some of the damage done in the last 20 years by people who should have known better than to assume children were some kind of vegetable growth that could be handled by bonehouse methods. Kids are people. They want to be treated like people.

Here's where we stand on New-Car Selling

The Danner Buick Co.'s "Foursquare Selling Policy" assures you a Fair Deal when you buy a new car

Let's bring this subject right out in the open.

Many conditions still exist which encourage the "gray marketing" of automobiles.

You don't like this — and neither do we.

There's no law against "under the counter" deals — demanding a bonus for early delivery.

There's no law against loading cars with accessories the customer doesn't want or need.

There's no law against selling to buyers who make it their business to resell new cars at inflated prices.

But we still don't believe it's good business to gouge our customers.

All dealers buy cars at clearly established factory prices which are the same, model for model, all over the country. All start on a fair and equal basis — and all should be able to sell at fair and reasonable delivered prices.

So we're making public announcement of our code of fair dealing.

Our foursquare selling policy, simply stated, is this:

1 NO PADDING OF PRICES

We guarantee our delivered prices to contain nothing but the charges which were standard practice in figuring prewar delivered prices. You receive an itemized invoice. We display all prices in our showroom—and sell at these listed figures.

2 NO LOADING OF UNWANTED ACCESSORIES

All cars are delivered with factory-installed accessories, and prices are figured to cover them. We pledged ourselves to add no "extras" except those each customer orders—and to avoid using "extras" to increase the delivered price.

3 NO COMPULSORY TRADE-INS

We will take your order and deliver a car without requiring a trade-in. However, we have many valued used-car customers who also depend upon us to supply them with automobiles. For this reason we would like to have your trade-in, and we'll give you a fair and reasonable allowance on it.

4 NO COLLUSION WITH "GRAY MARKET" DEALERS

While we cannot prevent our customers from reselling new cars, we will not knowingly be a party to such deals, in the case of individuals or of dealers who operate in the "gray market." Our only interest is to deliver new cars to bona fide customers.

We want to express our sincere appreciation to our many customers and friends for their patience in awaiting their turn for delivery of a new Buick. We are doing our utmost to be fair and equitable in the distribution of cars during a period when supply is lagging behind demand.

We present this platform because we believe it's good business to keep our customers informed. It's a platform that gives you a fair deal when you buy a new car—exactly the same deal you got before the war. If you want this kind of deal, call at our place of business.

MYRIADS of candles along the high choir loft railing and in tall seven-branch candelabra lighted the altar in the First Presbyterian church for the afternoon wedding of Miss Jacqueline Helen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Williams of 560 Summit street and Lawrence R. Daly of Bowling Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Daly of 419 Milburn avenue, Saturday. Salal, huckleberry foliage and other greenery were banked to form a background for the two tall floor baskets filled with white gladiolus and Madonna lilies.

Preceding the ceremony, read at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, Mrs. Karl Schell, organist, and Mrs. George Griffiths, vocalist presented a program of wedding music. The organ numbers included "Romance," Sibelius, "Deep in My Heart," Romberg, "Meditation," Halvey, "Love Theme," Gruenfeld, "Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod, "Serenade," Romberg and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Griffiths sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told," Stultz, "Through the Years," Youmans, and during the ceremony "O Perfect Love," Barnby.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of frost white sheer over white satin. The Victorian yoke was outlined with a wide ruffle and the fitted bodice, pointed at the waistline, was trimmed with satin covered buttons in the back, and the long sleeves ended in ruffles over the hands. Tiers of ruffles trimmed the hoop skirt from the waist to the hemline and extended the full length of the long, circular train. Her veil of imported English illusion was held by a pearl tiara and she wore the bridegroom's gift, a strand of pearls. The cascade bridal bouquet of Madonna lilies was accented with lilies of the valley, white delphinium and tied with wide white satin ribbon.

Mrs. E. F. Bertrand of Toledo, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Alspach and Miss Beulah Rae Bull. They were gowned alike in frost white sheer over satin, and the Victorian yokes outlined with wide ruffles of lace. Rows of the lace trimmed the bottoms of the hoop skirts falling beneath overskirts caught up at intervals. They wore small bonnets with bows of lace and each wore a strand of pearls. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and lavendar delphinium tied with pink satin ribbon, and the same flowers were in the bridesmaids' bouquets tied with lavendar ribbon.

Miss Dolores Powell of Hamilton and Miss Anne Bacon of London, a college roommate of the bride, lighted the candles. They wore sheer white dresses fashioned alike with full ballerina skirts, and their headdress were halos of daisies. They wore wristlets of white daisies.

MRS. LAWRENCE R. DALY

The bride's brother, Ransome R. Williams, served as best man and ushers were Marion Price, Thomas J. Boyd, Jack Colgrove, a college classmate of the bridegroom, and Donald Jelinek of Cincinnati, former roommate of the bridegroom in college.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Williams chose a floorlength dress in an aqua shade with which she combined gray accessories and wore a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Daly was costumed in a powder blue afternoon dress and wore white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Two hundred guests were entertained at the reception held at Hotel Harding. Tall baskets filled with white gladiolus decorated the ballroom and an arrangment of gladiolus and delphinium were on the piano. Completing the decorations were palms and greenery. The tiered wedding cake topped with a wedding bell, lily of the valley and a white rose, was on a table lighted with tapers. Encircling the cake were white roses and gardenias.

Assisting for the reception were Mrs. Carl Danner, Mrs. R. C. Isaly, Mrs. Charles Rinehart, Mrs. J. W. Wiant, Mrs. William F. Ehrick, Miss Elizabeth Zuspan and Miss Carol Heepke. Music during the reception was by Miss Virginia Grover.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing a beige lightweight wool dress and eton jacket. The dress was trimmed in brown matching her accessories and she wore a white orchid.

The bride was graduated from Harding High school in 1944 and attended Miami and Bowling Green State universities. Mr. Daly was graduated from Harding High school and during World War II served overseas with the armed forces for two and one-half years. He is a junior at Bowling Green State university. They will make their home at 609 Ridge street in Bowling Green.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Ella Bolander of Worthington; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jelinek of Bowling Green; William F. Ehrick Jr. of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Tuegel of Springfield, Ill.; Arthur Kettenhofen of Troy, Ill.; Mrs. Paul E. Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dietsch, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Todd and Miss Elizabeth Noller of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hogan of Westerville; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bertrand, Smith Daly and Miss Eileen Baker of Toledo; Miss Carol Heepke, Miss Joan Macht and Miss Julie Emminger of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Cruikshank, Miss Betty Lou Cruikshank, Jack Crukenberg of Columbus Grove; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hudson, Paul Robinson, Miss Mary Gore and Mrs. Grace Hoskins of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newman, O. D. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon James, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitworth and W. J. Calhoun of Sandusky; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Armantrout of Akron.

Mrs. M. W. Ward of Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Bacon and Miss Anne Bacon of London; Miss Dolores Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Phelps of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Biddle of Ligonier, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher of South Bend, Ind.; Mrs. Kathryn Devor of Stevens Point, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Folz of Dayton; Miss Lillian White of Batavia, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Barker of Canfield; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holt of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Patingale of Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. George Planck of Loudonville, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Quinn of Hollywood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. William Taft, Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Michas, Mrs. O. Gearson and Mrs. Emmy Zaeybruck of New York City; Miss Mary Lou Breithack of Miami, Fla.; Miss Betty Sanders of Canton; Miss Ada Kahout of Dearborn, Mich.; Mrs. Daniel Eagan of Chicago, and Mrs. Ralph McCambridge of Lancaster.

The bride's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner Friday evening. The bride's gift to her matron of honor was a cocktail bag and she gave the bridesmaids rhinestone bracelets. Her gifts to the candlelighters were rhinestone earrings. Mr. Daly presented his best man with a cigaret lighter and the ushers with cuff links.

Ross-Miller Vows Exchanged in Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, June 21—Miss Dorothy June Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ross, became the bride Sunday afternoon of Earl A. Miller, son of Mrs. Ruth Miller and Anson Miller of Galion. Mr. Ross gave his daughter in marriage.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. C. G. Collison in an open church ceremony at First Baptist church following a program of music by Miss Miriam Stroh of Wapakoneta, organist, and Miss Gwendolyn Arler, soprano.

Mrs. James Tessenier was matron of honor, Miss Barbara Ross bridesmaid. Linda Beach was the ring bearer. The bridegroom had as attendants Ralph Perrin and James Tesenier.

At the home of the bride's parents, a wedding luncheon was served following the ceremony. The couple left on a wedding trip through the southern states.

The bride attended Capital university, where she affiliated with Kappa Sigma Theta sorority. She is also a member of Nu Phi Mu, international sorority. Mr. Miller was a stellar basketball player at Galion High school.

Lester Ross, the bride's father, is head of the Burch corporation, Crestline.

Fails To Count On Escort in Pals' Car

Your Good Health

By DR. MORRIS H. BOSWORTH

Rheumatic Fever Treatment

ONCE a child has had rheumatic fever, the great problem is to keep the disease from recurring. Indeed, statistics show that if this dread scourge of childhood could be limited to one attack it would soon lose its reputation as a killer, for only one out of every hundred victims dies during the initial attack. In other words, it is the repeated assaults on the heart which finally weaken it to the point where the child's life is endangered.

The fact that rheumatic fever develops after colds or sore throats, due to certain types of hemolytic streptococcus, has pointed the way to its control. Reasoning that if the number of such sore throats can be reduced, the frequency of recurrence of rheumatic fever can be decreased, medical men have recently tried penicillin lozenges as a preventive for sore throats of the type which lead to rheumatic fever. Results are most hopeful.

Patients were advised to suck the lozenges slowly about one hour after each meal and were given a month's supply at a time. At the end of each month, patients reported for checkup. This was repeated during the fall, winter and spring months when upper respiratory infections are most prevalent.

Twenty-two children were given the penicillin lozenges and 22 others with rheumatic fever were observed at the same time, but were not given the penicillin. None of the children who had the penicillin developed signs of activity of the rheumatic infection, whereas, four of the control group presented definite attacks of the rheumatic fever.

Fifteen mothers of the twenty-two patients receiving the penicillin stated that the general health of the children was much better and that they had fewer colds and sore throats than they had prior to taking the penicillin. Furthermore, when these upper respiratory infections had occurred, they were not serious. The lozenges apparently had no effect on common colds.

It would seem that further study of the use of the penicillin lozenges in the prevention of attacks of rheumatic fever, is of great importance to the nation's children, so many of whom fall victims to this dread disorder every year. It developes most frequently in those between the ages of six and eight years, and recurs most often between the ages 11 and 13. Thus, if our youngsters can be protected against its ravages at these crucial times, thousands of lives can be saved and a great deal of invalidism prevented.

Questions and Answers

J. J. R.: I have a ten-year-old girl who has nosebleeds often. Is this serious?

Answer: Nosebleed, a common indisposition, may be due to many causes of local and general classification.

The local causes include those which directly affect the nose—for example, a blow on the nose, picking of the nose, tumors of the nose.

Among the general causes are the acute diseases, especially the beginning of scarlet fever or measles, conditions in which there is high blood pressure, such as hardening of the arteries, chronic kidney disease and diseases of the blood such as anemia.

Nosebleed frequently occurs at the period of maturing, at which time the blood pressure rises rapidly.

A through study by a physician is needed to determine the cause, then proper treatment may be suggested.

Miss Dorothy Plack and Miss Elaine Berry, organist and vocalist, presented a program of nuptial numbers. Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Steffee was attended by Miss Ruth Steffee, Barbara Ann Steffee, Miss Merce Rick and Miss Marian Smith. Donald Steffee was best man.

Chicago P.-T.A. Wants Fewer Shivery Comics

By The United Press

CHICAGO — Chicago parent-teacher groups believe that fewer "blood and thunder" comic books and more parks are vital in combatting juvenile delinquency.

First returns from questionnaires sent to PTA groups by the Juvenile Protection Association indicate that "cleaning up" comic books should be high on the list of corrective measures.

Parents and teachers agreed that the need for playgrounds is the most important step, however.

Rattlesnakes are found both in very humid and very dry climates.

OHIO "PROGRESSIVES" GET WALLACE BOOST

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 21 — The brand new Progressive party of Ohio had a verbal boost from Henry A. Wallace today in its efforts to place his name on the state ballot this fall.

Wallace himself concluded a two-day convention founding the first new party in the state since the Bull Moose days of Theodore Roosevelt last night with a vigorous attack on Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel.

Hummel has barred the third party presidential candidate from the Ohio ballot, contending that three petitioners for his nomination were Communists. They denied this.

"The people," said Wallace before a crowd estimated by his backers at 7,000, "will be watching your battle to save the very foundation of our system of political democracy—the system of free elections.

"They will be listening for the voice of (Senator) Robert Taft rising in protest against the action of his fellow Republicans—your secretary of state."

On Hummel, Wallace said: "A united protest will stop the philosophy of Hitler, Himmler and Hummel from conquering freedom in the sovereign state."

About 500 Wallace backers formed the party over the week-end with a platform setting forth most of his aims—with an emphasis on ending the "cold war." Chairman of the group is Dr. Oliver Loud, a physics professor at Antioch college, Yellow Springs, O.

Sen. Glen H. Taylor (D-Ida.) had planned to make the keynote speech for the convention yesterday but sent his regrets because of affairs in Washington. Judge Joseph H. Rainey of Philadelphia, a Negro, spoke in his place.

By The Associated Press

UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING AND DRAFT

DEWEY—Has favored UMT and selective service

STASSEN—Proposes a manpower program in which young men would register with commissions pending how many should be called each year.

TAFT—Opposes UMT but says military selective service may be necessary.

WARREN—Favors UMT because it "can create privates which can turn rich and poor alike to serve equally in country's defense."

VANDENBERG—Has taken no position on this question. His office says he's been too busy guiding Republican participation in a bi-partisan foreign policy to become involved in domestic issues.)

MARTIN—Has opposed UMT but will follow Republican party line on limited draft.

MacARTHUR—Has taken no position on various issues.

FOREIGN POLICY

DEWEY—Has urged a United States of Europe as a strong third power devoted to the cause of peace." For firm policy toward Russia.

STASSEN—Would abolish veto power in United Nations. Favors U.S. military alliance with countries of western Europe.

TAFT—Has urged United Nations charter be rewritten with "real teeth in it." Wants United Nations to lay down rules of international conduct to be administered by impartial tribunal with or without Russia.

WARREN—Says United Nations "should be put to test" of dealing with aggression."

VANDENBERG—Leader of Republican participation in bi-partisan foreign policy. pushed bill to finance European Recovery Program through Senate. favors "strong stand for peace which includes justice and honor."

MARTIN—Has said "America must help Europe and the Orient but not as a world WPA unlimited."

TAFT-HARTLEY LABOR ACT

DEWEY—It's a good law. But I'm sure it has some faults. My party will be more ready to repair those defects than the Democrats have been with their labor legislation.

STASSEN—Would amend law to allow union publications to support political candidates; ease restrictions on union shops, and require union officials to sign non-Communist affadavits only if they are accused of Communism.

TAFT—Says "the country and labor union members themselves are finding that the law is working because it is based on justice and equality while protecting every basic right which labor leaders have fought for."

WARREN—Says "the law should be continually re-examined with no hesitation in amending it to correct deficiencies demonstrated by experience."

VANDENBERG—No comment on it . . . voted for passage of law, also voted to over-rule Truman veto.

MARTIN—Was a leading supporter of the bill in house.

INFLATION

DEWEY—Has favored tax reduction, less government spending, and public debt reduction as check on inflation.

STASSEN—Has advocated limiting consumer credit, a check on extreme speculation, and legislation "to ban excessive inventories that result in unbridled hoarding and profiteering." Opposes price and rationing controls.

TAFT—Favored tax reduction and cut in non-defense spending. Against government price and rationing controls.

WARREN—Says "if voluntary measures prove ineffectual to check inflation, we must resort to legal measures—export and credit controls, or price, wage and use controls."

VANDENBERG—Has taken no position on inflation but voted for tax reduction.

MARTIN—Outspoken advocate of Republican tax-cutting measure. Has said "We can bring down prices by stepping up production and cutting government spending." Opposed price controls, saying competition is better regulator than government bureaus."

PALESTINE PARTITION

DEWEY—Favors it.

STASSEN—For partition. Has urged United Nations police force, with American troops participating.

TAFT—Favors it.

WARREN—Has taken no position on Palestine but has expressed hope that United Nations would bring about a just decision.

VANDENBERG—Has taken no position but said President Truman's recognition of Jewish state was a "logical move."

MARTIN—Has favored partition.

COMMUNIST PARTY IN U. S.

DEWEY — Opposes outlawing party because it would drive Reds underground.

STASSEN — Favors outlawing Communist party.

TAFT—Opposes outlawing party.

VANDENBERG Has taken no position but has said we shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

MARTIN Has taken no position.

Six Drivers Fined On Traffic Charges

One minor automobile accident and six convictions on traffic violation charges were included in a report by the state highway patrol Saturday.

A car driven by Charles Perkins of near Tiffin, going east on route 231 about four miles north of Sycamore at 7 p. m. Friday, and one driven by Raymond E. Babcock of near Sycamore, collided without injury to either driver.

Earl Combs of Sandusky arrested a week ago on a charge of failure to yield the right of way forfeited $25 bond to municipal court Saturday when he failed to appear. Walter Hane of 419 East Church street was fined $10 and costs on a plea of guilty Saturday in municipal court to a charge of operating a motor vehicle with insufficient lights. Richard Hewitt of 155 Jefferson street was fined $5 and costs in the same court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to obey a stop sign on highway 4. Ted Rambo of 538 Lee street arrested Friday and charged with operating a car with no muffler on route 23, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court. Wiefred Hinamon of near Marion was fined $10 and costs, following his arrest June 16 on an insufficient lights charge.

Charles Faine of 1110 Cheney avenue, stopped during a traffic check conducted by the patrol last week stated that he had left his driver's license at home. In answering the warning Friday which had been given during the check, he failed to produce license. He was fined $10 and costs in municipal court Saturday on a charge of failure to possess a driver's license.

Selecting Meters For Galion Parking

Special to The Star

GALION, June 21—City officials today began their problem of selecting parking meters for Galion. Bids for the meters were opened in the office of Service Director John F. Porter. There were six bidders for the job of furnishing and installing the meters. Mayor H. H. Hartmann said today that the bids would be tabulated and studied. Several samples of the meters were in the office of the director. Type and durability of meter will have to be studied in addition to price.

The Magee Hale Park-O-Meter company of Oklahoma City were the lowest bidders. The company bid was $53 for each meter for a 12-month period with $3 rental charge for each month. The company's bid provided that installation of the meters will begin 30 days after the contract is made.

Bids were accompanied by certified checks.

SET BOND AT MT. GILEAD

Bond was set at $1,000 for Clarence Lee Conner of Columbus at a preliminary hearing in mayor's court at Mt. Gilead on an auto theft charge Saturday. He was arrested late Friday night by the state highway patrol following the theft of an automobile from in front of the North Electric Co. in Mt. Gilead.

"And especially you're never supposed to talk about them.

"I'm not saying a word to anybody except to you, my own darling mother," she said with a fine show of indignation, "and if I can't talk to my mother, will somebody tell me what I am going to do when I get all mixed up and hot and bothered about something?"

There was justice in her words I told myself. But there also was a subtlety of scheming which was almost eerie. And I knew that many a mother of a precocious child would echo my sigh of exasperated frustration as I tried to frame the right answer to her question.

"Of course you always may talk to me," I said. "What is it you are trying to tell me?"

FIREMEN CALLED AS OIL STOVE EXPLODES

No Loss Reported from Three Weekend Alarms.

An oil stove explosion a fire blaze in a box of refuse and a chimney struck by lightning resulted in three calls to the fire department over the weekend and early today, Fire Chief Otis Sifritt reported. There was no loss.

The explosion of an oil stove at the home of Mrs. Jesse Harris at 281½ Niles street today at 9:8 a. m. threw kerosene about the kitchen there but otherwise caused no damage, he reported.

A blaze Sunday at 12:43 a. m. at the LaMar Grill at 526 West Center street resulted when the sweepings from the floor were dumped in a cardboard container at closing time. A lighted cigaret was thought to have set the refuse burning.

A lightning bolt struck the chimney at the Garland Landes home at 994 West Center street at 1:37 p. m. Saturday, causing a light fuse to blow out and scattering soot about the premises.

Central and West Center street station firemen answered the call.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

OH Father do forgive me I pleaded contritely as I rushed to where he was standing. Did you speak to be before and not receive any answer?"

Dicky spared my father the unwelcome task of giving me even the semblance of criticism.

He surely did he said lightly and you as surely didn't. The celebrated wits must have been woolgathering. But then you have a bit of sheep's eating time coming to you. She just has been through quite a session with our royal pastry chef which turning to his father in law.

I know that my father did. They'll took me in [illegible]

Don't think of it [illegible] insanity he commanded. [illegible] have plenty [illegible] and your energies up in the Fifth Veritzen apartment. Good bye now my darling Richard I look to you to see that she does not work too hard.

He gave me a warm embrace and a loving kiss which was punctuated by Dicky's answer to his injunction.

"I'll ride herd on her Dad, he said, with his infectious grin, reining her in sharply when the curb is needed."

He was ushering my father through the door as he spoke and his voice came back to me from the hall.

"Just pull this door shut" he said and I'll knock when I come back I'll just escort Dad down to the [illegible] floor.

Good bye [illegible] Granddad' Ruth called with her hand slipped [illegible] me. With almost unconscious [illegible] she has fathomed that [illegible] his last farewell kiss to be for me and she [illegible] keeps in the back ground [illegible] he has gone through [illegible] Then he voice rings [illegible] the sweetness [illegible] throwing [illegible] salute which [illegible] for she [illegible] realizing the [illegible] father went [illegible] her hand [illegible] I closed [illegible] wonderful [illegible] Granddad [illegible] she declared [illegible] were alone [illegible] lowered her hand.

He [illegible] I told her absorbed [illegible] the next words brought me to quick attention.

[illegible] about that Granddad that's [illegible] hush-hush stuff from Washington [illegible] said "Well, I don't [illegible] need to worry a bit about [illegible] Do you know what I think

I received myself with an effort.

You're not supposed to think about Grandad's affairs" I said trying to put severity into my voice and failing miserably.

At Republican Convention

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

PHILADELPHIA

THE Republicans opened their convention today and they'd make a lot of noise for three days but—

Don't look for the real business till Thursday. That's when the delegates expect to begin voting on a candidate for President.

Meanwhile the would-be candidates try to line up enough of the 1,094 delegates' votes to win. The winner needs at least 548.

What else happens between now and voting time? Talk, mostly. Speeches. At least 16 speeches are scheduled between now and Wednesday night.

James Marlow

These speeches will say, generally, the Democrats are a mis-erable crew unfit for office and that the Republicans are wonderful.

(The Democrats will say the same thing, except in reverse, when they open their convention here July 12.)

This is the way it goes at these conventions every four years because they all follow pretty much the same pattern.

There will be day and night sessions. This doesn't mean the delegates sit continuously in the convention hall, day and night.

Far from it. They don't arrive at the hall till around 11 a. m. (Philadelphia time), do some business like listening to committee reports and speeches and then recess.

They go back to their hotels, rest, eat dinner, and go back to the hall around 9 p. m. for another session of speechmaking.

This will give you an idea of what's going to happen at the convention before the voting starts.

THE JOB OF OPENING the convention at 11 a. m. today was handed to Walter S. Hallanan of Charleston, W. Va., chairman of the arrangements committee.

As he takes his stand on the platform, under the blinding lights set up for newsreel and television cameras, the delegates will be milling around and talking.

Hallanan bangs his gavel. He bangs and bangs. Finally, the delegates sit down and become quiet.

The delegates from each state sit together, with a big sign standing beside them, the name of their state printed in huge letters on it.

Hallanan solemnly says "The 24th convention of the Republican party will come to order . . . ."

HE TELLS EVERYONE to rise and sing the National Anthem. That's over. Then comes a prayer.

Those two things—singing the Star-Spangled Banner and the prayer—open every session of the convention.

The clergymen offering the prayers at the various sessions are of different religious beliefs. Protestants, a Catholic, a Jew.

The first talks today are addresses of welcome by the mayor of Philadelphia and the governor of Pennsylvania.

Then the delegates hear the reports of the various committees already set up to work out the details of the convention.

The latter is the most business they quit until 9 o'clock tonight.

THERE ARE TWO big speeches tonight:

1. By Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois. This is the keynote speech. He'll try to scorch the Democrats.

2. By Mrs. Clare Booth Luce, who denounced the Democrats at the Republican convention in 1940. Expect a repeat performance tonight.

Tomorrow night former President Herbert Hoover, who blasted the Democrats at the 1944 Republican convention, will speak again.

One of the most important things between now and voting time is the announcement of the Republican party platform. This is a list of what the Republicans promise to do—if elected for the next four years—about labor, farm, and other domestic and foreign problems.

THE REPUBLICANS had figured on starting the voting Wednesday night. But—

Champion Joe Louis defends his heavyweight title against Joe Walcott Wednesday night.

Both the fight and the convention are being televised. This would put the convention in the position of competing with a prize fight for public interest.

The official program still shows the first roll call set for Wednesday night. But the talk around here is that it will be put off until Thursday.

HOME CIRCLE MEETS

Four applications for membership were received and accepted when Protected Home Circle No. 184 met Friday night in the Democratic hall. Nominations of officers was held and election will be conducted at the next meeting. Following the meeting, a potluck supper was served by the team club and an old fashioned song fest was held under the direction of Mrs. Helen Johnson, with Mrs. Minnie Van Asbeck as accompanist. Special prizes were won by Mrs. Rose Sevier and Ted Jackson.

LOYAL CIRCLE MEETS

Mrs. Clara Bolander of 861 Congress street was hostess for a meeting of Wayside Loyal circle of Wayside Rose Rebekah lodge, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. T. Johnston was in charge of the meeting which opened with prayer. Contest honors were won by Mrs. Dan Phelps, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Ollie Shupp. The hostess was assisted in serving a lunch by her daughter, Miss Ruth Bolander. A picnic will be held at Lincoln park July 16.

There are no railroads in Iceland.

PLAN FIREWORKS DISPLAY

GALION—A night July 4 display of fireworks at Rose park here will be furnished by the American Legion post, climaxing two tournament games by the Legion's baseball teams. Charles Crusher has been named chairman of the planning committee.

Marion Cubs Take Newark Yankees in Two of Three Weekend Games

Peet, Edgar Pitch Bruins To Victory: Adkins Loses Finale

By BILL BREEN

The stout right arms of Ray Peet and big Jim Edgar carried the Marion Cubs to Saturday night and Sunday afternoon wins on the Lincoln park diamond but the Bruin defenses cracked in the Sunday nightcap and the Yankees surged in to take an 11 to 2 ... relief them in the Ohio-Indiana league's fifth place ... east of the Mississippi.

The Cubs had taken a first inning one run lead on a walk and singles by Bekeza and Gene Bohaman but the Yanks came back in the fourth to ... the game on a walk ... and ... Edgar's ... choice.

Bekeza singled to open the sixth and Boldue sent him home with a double to left field.

Peet whiffed 11 in the ... with Finelli, who fanned eight. The Newark right hander who gave up six hits ... was lifted for pinch hitter Bob Dill in the eighth.

Bekeza greeted ... reliever Dick Murphy ... but he ... was caught ... when he started for home on what he thought would be a hit and run.

Two pitchouts made ... count two outs on Gene Bohaman and Zeke started home but Newark Manager Bob Dill who had smelled the squeeze coming signaled for a third pitchout and Zeke was trapped for the third out.

The Cubs will take a rest today and then meet Zanesville Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

RED BIRDS DOWN INDIANAPOLIS TWICE

By The Associated Press

The American Association race tightened again Monday after pace-setting Indianapolis dropped a Sunday twin bill and had its lead over runnerup Milwaukee shaved to two and a half games.

While the Tribe bowed to Columbus 13 to 4 and 3 to 4 the Brewers picked up a full game by splitting at Minneapolis, 6-5 and 2-1.

Third-place St. Paul also gained a game on Indianapolis in ... ging only by four games ... dividing at home against Kansas City 4-6 and 5-1.

Fourth-spot Columbus got back within hailing distance of the ... eaders trailing seven games behind first with its ... double ... scalping of the Tribe before 8,416.

In the fourth Sabbath ... game bill last place Louisville swept a pair from seventh-place Toledo 8-3 and 2-1.

The Red Bird victories were sparked by Bill Howerton whose two homers and a double in the opener and a ... of two-baggers and a single in ... gave him 15 total bases for the day.

Tight pitching including a two-hitter by Milwaukee's Glenn Elliott in the opener and Otto Clark's five-hitter for Minneapolis in the night-cap featured the Brewer-Miller split.

Phil Haugstad of St. Paul twirled a six hitter in the finale against Kansas City after the Blues Dave Madison reliever, help from reliefer Pete McGuano for the 6-4 opening decision.

Louisville's Johnny McCall and Toledo's Chet Johnson each yielded only four hits, but the seven-inning second game ... Toledo went to McCall who fanned nine. In the opener, the ... owners faced five Mud Hen hurlers for 11 blows.

Record Crowd of 82,781 Sees Indians Take Two from Athletics

Bobby Feller, Bob Lemon Pitch Cleveland Indians To Double Victory

By The Associated Press

Bill Veeck, major league baseball's No 1 showman, is a very happy guy today thanks to Cleveland's rabid baseball fans.

Cleveland fans set a major league attendance record yesterday to fulfill one of Veeck's pet ambitions.

A total of 82,781 paid to see the American league's front-running Indians take a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday. The crowd topped the previous high of 81,841 set May 30 1938 for a twin bill in New York between Boston and the New York Yankees.

Wednesday night the Indians will have a program celebrating the second anniversary of Veeck's purchase of the club and outside of a victory over the Yanks, Veeck would like nothing better than to set another new attendance mark.

Come from Behind

For a while it appeared the Indians would disappoint the big crowd. The Athletics jumped on Bobby Feller for a 3-0 lead but the Indians staged a four-run seventh-inning rally and went on to score a 4-3 triumph. The Indians breezed home in the nightcap, 10-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Lemon, who became the first major league pitcher to win 10 games this year.

The defeats dropped the A's from second to third place as the New York Yankees became runners-up by taking a twin bill from the Browns in St. Louis, 4-2 and 6-2.

Joe DiMaggio clouted three homers, one in the first game and two in the second, to spearhead the Yankee drive.

Boston's fast-climbing Red Sox trounced the Tigers, 8-3, in a single game at Detroit to move over the Tigers into fourth place.

At Chicago, the Washington Senators divided a doubleheader with the White Sox. The Sox won the opener 4-3 and the Senators the nightcap, 4-1 to end an eight-game losing streak.

Braves Beat Reds

The National league's pace-setting Boston Braves also swept a doubleheader beating the Cincinnati Reds, 5-4 and 4-1 in Boston. The victories boosted Boston's margin to a game and a half over the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates, who split a pair with the Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Pirates, after Dutch Leonard beat them, 9-0 on four hits, collected 11 to win the second tilt 7-5. Ralph Kiner clouted his 18th and 19th homers of the year to feature the Pirate attack.

Manager Eddie Dyer's St. Louis Cardinals remained two games back of the Pirates. The Birds split with the Giants at New York, winning the first game, 7-2, but dropping the finale 6-4.

In a single game at Brooklyn the Chicago Cubs downed the Dodgers, 6-4 with Andy Pafko and Bob Scheffing collecting three safeties apiece to lead the Cub assault against three Dodger hurlers.

Lemon Will Win 20 If "His Hitting Holds Up"

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 21 — Bob Lemon, rising young Cleveland Indians' pitching star with the booming war club and antelope feet, will pass the 20-game victory mark this season "if his hitting holds up."

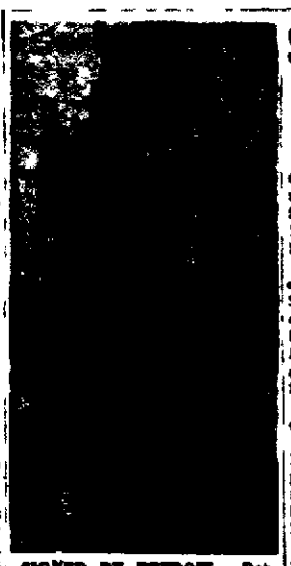
That was the opinion of bystander Don Black yesterday after Lemon hurled and batted his way to a 10-0 whitewashing of the Philadelphia Athletics. Bob Feller snapped a five-game losing streak with a 4-3 opening victory before an all-time record crowd of 82,781 fans.

Lemon clubbed a mighty home run deep into the right field stand raced around first for a double and covered the diamond like a circus tent on defense to become the first major league hurler to hit the 10-victory mark. He also leads the majors with four shutouts.

Lemon paced the Indians' 15-hit attack yesterday and hurled no-hit ball for five and one-third innings before yielding one of four singles.

Feller an ex-businessman who has ditched all outside activities in favor of baseball, made a "comeback" in the opener for his first triumph since May 19. The double win gave the Tribe a 3½-game first place lead.

The Indians wrapped up the initial verdict in the seventh inning which wiped out a 3-0 Philadelphia lead. Big blows of the frame were Hal Peck's pinch single with the bases loaded and Larry Doby's second safety, which tallied the winning run.



SIGNED BY DETROIT. Bob Andres (above), star pitcher of the Cincinnati Bentley Post American Legion Junior baseball team who was signed by the Detroit Tigers for a bonus of $22,000 June 18, was beaten twice this year in high school battles with pitcher Bob Adkins of the Marion Cubs, who joined the local last week. Andres was graduated recently from Cincinnati Purcell, while Adkins was graduated from Cincinnati Elder. Andres pitched Bentley Post to a national championship last year.

SPRINGFIELD WINS PAIR FROM MUNCIE

By The Associated Press

The battle for leadership of the Ohio-Indiana baseball league took on added zest today after Springfield's double victory over Muncie Sunday cut the Hoosiers' lead to a game and a half.

The Ohio nine's triumphs ended a four-game losing streak. Springfield took the opener 7-1 on Joe Grech's four hitter. It was his eighth win against three losses. In the afterpiece, 17 walks and five Muncie errors aided Springfield's cause.

Richmond and Portsmouth divided their Sabbath bill, the Ohioans taking the first game 1-0 behind Jim McCrea's two-hit pitching. Richmond took the eight-inning encore 3-1 behind the five-hit hurling of Manager Ollie Byers.

In another twin bill, Zanesville split with Lima, taking the first game 3-2 and dropping the second a seven-inning affair 18-5. Fourteen Lima batters went to the plate in the second inning of the second game and ten batted in the third inning.

Ray Culver Blanks Ashley on Two Hits

The VFW baseball team ended the Ashley Independent's winning streak 3 to 0 Sunday behind the two-hit pitching of lefty Ray Culver.

Culver whiffed 16 in racking up his third triumph and was never in trouble. VFW gave him errorless support and collected ten hits, Harold Dillion getting three for four.

Fritz Walters, Merle Loper, and Dillion all hit safely in the fourth to give the VFW all their runs.

Shortstop Walters had the crowd gasping in the last inning as he went far to his right to spear a drive backhanded forcing the last out at second to end the game.

Louis Ready To Make Final Bid For Boxing Fame

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 21 — Looking sharper and more vicious than he has been for some time, Joe Louis was almost ready today to make his next and perhaps final bid for fistic immortality.

Only a few taunting touches remained for the Brown Bomber before he steps into the Yankee Stadium ring Wednesday night for his 15-round return title bout with Jersey Joe Walcott.

After weeks of listless performances, the champion appears to have finally come into his own. In his last few workouts, the champ has shown some of the power punching that carried him to the heavyweight throne.

Saturday the Bomber was snapping out his left jab one of his most potent weapons in the long ago, with plenty of the old power. He was hooking well to the body and crossing his right with plenty of zip. His concentration on body punching seemed to indicate his plan of action for the big fight.

Those who saw him work went sky high on the champ to repeat easily. Sunday Louis didn't look too hot. A crowd of about 5,000 watched the Bomber but he obviously was not putting on any show being content to practice with his left.

Louis is dead set on whipping Walcott. He has built up a cold anger against the veteran who carried him the full 15 rounds last Dec. 5 and almost scored an upset. For Louis, who won the crown from Jimmie Braddock almost 11 years ago, this 25th title defense is the last big obstacle.

The bookmakers figure the Bomber will make it. He's a 5 to 13 favorite to win and a 5 to 6 choice to flatten Walcott.

INJURED IN RACE

NEWARK, O., June 21 — Hoyte Wade 32, of Newark, was injured critically during a big car race at Jones speedway yesterday. Wade was thrown out of his car which then fell on him, sheriff's deputies said. Another car struck Wade's after skidding, deputies added.

AS HANK SAUER GOES, SO GO THE REDLEGS

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 21 — It could be that as Hank Sauer goes, so go the Cincinnati Reds.

Sauer, whose 40-ounce bat powered 18 balls out of parks to lead the league in homers and runs batted in, has been held to three hits in the past week.

Hank isn't the only sad problem however.

The pitching has taken a pounding in the past week. In the last 11 games, only Howard Fox has gone the route. He won over Brooklyn in the only game the Reds managed to salvage in a week of disasters.

Boston pushed the Reds almost into the cellar with a sweep of a four game series, including both ends of a doubleheader yesterday.

The bright spot in the Red world, however, was the hitting of centerfielder Johnny Wyrostek. The former Phillie has been on a two week spree and has mounted his average from .260s to the vicinity of .320.

Boston choked off a ninth inning rally of the Reds yesterday in the first game, winning 5-4. Vern Bickford missed a shutout in the second game as the Braves won 4-1.

Injuries added to the Reds' troubles, too. Kent Peterson went off the mound after Tommy Holmes infield ball yesterday and injured a muscle when trying to throw to first. His peg was wild and Alvin Dark scored from first.

Herm Wehmeier, who won his first five major league starts, lost his second game. He was charged for the first game yesterday. It was his first defeat as a starting hurler. His previous loss, also to the Braves, came when he appeared in a relief role.

DEMOCRATS OF OHIO ORGANIZE

Party Leaders in Harmony as Selections Are Made for National Convention.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 21 —Ohio Democrats presented a united front today for the first time since their bitter gubernatorial battle in the May primary.

Everything was sweetness yesterday as the Democratic national convention delegates organized here.

Albert A. Horstman of Dayton who resigned as state chairman after backing Ray T. Miller's losing race for governor, was recommended for reelection as national committeeman.

Miller was elected chairman of the Ohio delegation. The former Cleveland mayor lost the nomination for former Gov. Frank J. Lausche another Clevelander.

All convention and national committee nominees were elected unanimously.

Greg Holbrook of Hamilton, former congressman, was selected vice chairman of the Ohio convention delegation. Mrs. Lena G. Siferd of Swanton was named secretary and Mrs. Marie Dixon Low of Warren was recommended for another term as national committeewoman.

The only dissonant note was Horstman's report on delegation housing prospects for the Philadelphia convention opening July 12.

Authority was voted Horstman to protest to the National Democratic committee against accommodations already assigned.

The committee is holding 30 hotel rooms in Philadelphia and 80 in Camden, N. J., for the Ohioans. Rooms in Trenton, a 35-minute ride from Philadelphia, also are available.

Horstman said he obtained a meeting room in Philadelphia's Benjamin Franklin hotel after turning down rooms "in a fourth rate hotel."

Thirty-nine delegates and 13 alternates answered the first roll call yesterday. Ten others arrived later. Ohio has 50 convention votes (12 delegates at large have half a vote each). All are pledged to U. S. Treasurer William A. Julian of Cincinnati as a stand-in candidate for President Truman.

Included among those named to convention committees was: Rules and Order of Business, Francis W. Durbin of Lima.

DRAINING GILEAD LAKE

MT. GILEAD—The upper lake at the Mt. Gilead state lakes will be drained on Aug. 8, according to Carl Thompson, manager. The lake will be drained, cleaned and restocked with bass and catfish, he said. The lower lake will also be drained, cleaned and stocked within the next three years, the manager said.

KIRKPATRICK CLUB MEETS

The Kirkpatrick Duzzer's 4-H club held a meeting at the home of Doris Boyd Wednesday. Demonstrations were given by Joyce Benga and Janis Rasmanyder on how to thread a sewing machine and how to make a salad. Eleven members, eight guests, and club advisor, Miss Lucille Kennedy, were guests.

Sub-Zero Motoring In Alaska Irksome

By The United Press

SEATTLE — Here are a few of the inconveniences experienced by members of the Navy's cold weather unit during maneuvers in Alaska recently.

Tan belts on jeeps stiffened in sub-zero cold and shattered like glass rods, rubber tires froze solid, vehicles could not be started by towing because gear oils and wheel bearing greases stiffened so the wheels would skid rather than turn, portable high-intensity heaters were turned on automotive engines for a couple of hours before they started. When cars were parked they had to be left in gear or else when the engine started they would move. Shifting gears was out of the question.

PLAN HONEYMOON TO CANADA

GALION — Married Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duane R. Kinnamon plan to sojourn in Canada for their honeymoon. My and Mrs. Harvey C. Hay are the parents of the bride. Miss Grayce Hay was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Kinnamon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd K. Kinnamon. Rev. Norman R. Sevenville of the First Methodist church officiated.

NO, LASS—IT WASN'T LIGHTNIN' YOU SAW LAST NIGHT—IT WAS A LOSIN' BATTLE THAT VALAGGA'S WARRIORS FOUGHT AGAINST OUR INVISIBLE ELECTRIC ARMY—
"ELECTRIC ARMY?"
YES—VALAGGA PLANNED A MASSACRE THAT CHANGED INTO A FARCE—THE SHIP WAS WIRED FOR INVADERS—
WE WAITED UNTIL THE SAVAGES WERE ALL ABOARD, THEN I SWITCHED ON THE CURRENT—AND THE ATTACKERS FOUND THEMSELVES ON A GRIDDLE—
GEE!
SHOCKED AND PERMATEENED, THOSE HOWLING WARRIORS WENT PLUNGIN' OVERBOARD INTO THE SEA—
GEE!

WE KNOW HOW

A top-notch mechanic has to have more than a set of socket wrenches. He has affection and respect for a sweet running car. He has a flair for diagnosing tricky troubles. He fixes things right, first time out.

That's the kind of expert skill we offer you at our service shop—plus the finest and most efficient equipment there is to be had.

In 1945, Mr. Truman brought him back to government service as Federal Home Loan administrator.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

PHILADELPHIA — There are rumors that a willing candidate for vice president has been picked up. He is being held incommunicado until he can be delivered to the convention.

Authorities are undecided whether to give him an intelligence test before or after his acceptance speech.

As I understand it, he was on a train bound south and happened to mention in the smoker that he wouldn't mind taking the job . . The information was phoned ahead and he was removed at Philadelphia

The vice presidency pays $15,000 but you never saw so many men running from easy money.

In one headquarters it is the rule that the vice presidency must never be mentioned except in connection with some other candidate.

But the way I look at it . . A vice president is just as good as any other man provided he keeps on being vice president
